

Division of Liberal Arts
Assistant or Associate Professor of Sociology
Fall 2017

IUPUC—Indiana University-Purdue University Columbus—has delivered high-quality undergraduate and graduate degree programs aligned with regional needs since 1970. Enjoy interacting with students, faculty, and staff who are committed to making a difference in the future of our region. Become part of an exciting opportunity to build our Sociology program.

A tenure-track or tenured appointment is available on August 1, 2017, at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in the Division of Liberal Arts at IUPUC. The position is a ten-month teaching assignment with expectations of teaching a variety of courses across the discipline at various academic levels, conducting and publishing quality scholarly research, and participation in service activities at the campus.

REQUIREMENTS: Completion of a Ph.D. in Sociology or a closely related field, with a concentration in criminal justice or criminology by December 31, 2016. Documented successful teaching experience at the postsecondary level, ability to maintain an active program of research, and ability to teach across IUPUC's sociology and criminal justice curriculum. Strong oral and written communication skills are a must. Successful teaching at the university level is very important.

PREFERENCES: Minimum of two years of experience in teaching traditional and non-traditional undergraduate students; clear evidence of ability to establish a successful research program; and demonstrated capacity to collaborate with faculty across disciplines. Preference will be given to applicants who have a record of teaching and serving under-represented populations and first generation college students. Preference will also be given to applicants who have a demonstrated commitment to student and community engagement.

IUPUC is a growing institution with high potential. The Columbus Learning Center incorporates resources from IUPUC, Ivy Tech Community College, and Purdue Polytechnic Institute to provide a focal point for community learning. This partnership is the result of a community initiative to expand postsecondary degree and professional development opportunities for the local workforce, resulting in a seamless continuation of educational opportunities for area residents.

IUPUC is located in Columbus, Indiana, and has a staff of 63 full-time faculty with excellent credentials and enrolls between 1,500 and 1,800 students annually. Columbus is located one hour south of Indianapolis, 1¼ hours from Louisville, and 1½ hours from Cincinnati. Columbus is a unique midwestern community with a population of 46,000 known for its world class architecture. The American Institute of Architects ranked Columbus sixth in the nation for architectural innovation and design – right behind Chicago, New York, Boston, San Francisco, and Washington, D.C. There are wonderful programs for young children, many parks, excellent philharmonic orchestra, and people trails. The community is also well known for its culture and its predilection for innovation. For further information visit <http://www.iupuc.edu/> and <http://columbus.in.us>.

University-sponsored benefit plans are a significant part of Indiana University's total compensation package. You may want to go to www.hr.iu.edu/benefits to learn more about the resources, services, and other generous benefits available to Indiana University employees. Interested candidates should review the application requirements and submit their application at: <http://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/3472>. Questions regarding the position or application process can be directed to Dr. George Towers, Liberal Arts Division Head, at 812.348.7371 or gtowers@iupuc.edu. Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Diversity is a core value at IUPUC. Our goal is to create an academic community that is rich with cultural, social and intellectual diversity. IUPUC is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer M/F/D/Veteran.